Learn About The Time Line

Hello and welcome to the Mystery & Logic Time Line of History. As you may already know, a great deal of effort is spent on the details of "Eternal Life" and where the doctrine had its beginnings. The fact is people are mystified by things they don't understand. However, in this case, I believe there truly is a logical, understandable and definable answer concerning the doctrines of "Eternal Life," if you're willing to look.

In order to answer the questions regarding the doctrine of eternal life; a good place to start is with the time line of history. The significance of the time line is its ability to help us place the order of events as we read about them. Understanding the time line will help us evaluate for ourselves the many religions since the earliest civilizations; and provide a perspective along with a more graphic and logical view of history.

When we look at the time line we see a line starting at "Year 0" then pointing out to the left to "infinity past."

We also see a line starting at "Year 0" pointing out to the right to "infinity future." Most everyone knows the line starting from "0" to infinity past as the "BC" line. BC stand for "Before Christ."

However, the line starting at "0" to infinity future (AD) is often mistakenly referred to "After Death" and this is incorrect. "AD" actually is an acronym for "Anno Domini" which is a Latin term and means "In the year of our Lord." Therefore, this era that we are in currently is the AD era; and we are still: "In the year of our Lord."

This calendar and the AD era was invented by a man named Dionysius Exiguus AD 532. The Bishops at the council of Chelsea in the year AD 816 ordered that the calendar Mr. Dionysius Exiguus invented be used as the standard calendar. The terminology AD became widely accepted after King Charles III of Germany added the phrase "In the year of our Lord" to his reign in the year AD 879.

The Exiguus Calendar is one of the many hard evidences of the life of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Scientifically and historically speaking the Lord Jesus Christ actually lived on the earth.

Also it can be safely estimated His life on earth was a 33 year life span that began somewhere between "Year 6-4 BC." This calendar is only one historic evidence of that.

The Christian era also known as the CE began during the reign of Augustus Caesar and also continues still today but is generally not referred to.

What ever you do, don't mention either "The Year of our Lord" or "The Christian Era" regardless of how factual it may be. It's politically incorrect!

As mentioned earlier, the year zero for the birth of the Christ; His birth would be more accurate if it were place at the year 6-4 BC according to historians. Finally as you will see later, the Bible is put to the scrutiny of testing standards that historians use, and the Bible stands out, not only as a wealth of historic information, but also as the bedrock of historic prophetic fulfillment. These futuristic writings were written by prophets then fulfilled by Jesus Christ Himself. Thanks for reading Mystery & Logic.
